Hello Matthew !

I'm just back in Marseille, and for my first day at school I can see my incredible progress.
During the flight I read the last lord of the rings and I didn't use my phone translator. I can see also that I'm able to watch CNN easily. It's a real pleasure and an open door on the World.
I hope my english teacher Will always  give me twenty's.
I already miss Scotland ! I hope I'll see you soon in France !

Bye Louis
